

Job Description: Deptford X Festival Assistant (Production)

Salary: £22,984 p/a pro rata (London Living Wage)

Duration: From 22 August until the end of September 2022

Contract: 28 days, fixed term

Hours: Basic hours of work: 10am– 6pm

Weekend and evening work will be required during the festival and install days prior.

Days: Variable. The post holder is required to work all open festival days (16 - 25 September inclusive, excluding Monday 19)

We are seeking a committed and passionate person to join us as a Festival Assistant (Production) making a significant contribution to the planning, organisation and delivery of Deptford X Festival 2022.

As Festival Assistant (Production) you will be a key member of the small team that delivers the annual Deptford X art festival, working alongside the Director, Deputy Director, Programme and Communications Manager, Festival Assistant (Volunteers and Communications), as well as a team of volunteers.

This is a fast-paced role, suitable for someone who has experience of the logistical and hands on delivery of exhibitions and off site art projects and events, and some experience of office administration. You will ideally have a background and interest in visual art. You will be thorough in approach, have a friendly and cooperative manner, and be comfortable with multi-tasking and supporting your colleagues in the wider operations of the organisation as required. This is an exciting time to join our team and an opportunity to contribute to a new programme with innovation and experimentation at its core.

The Festival Assistant (Production) will be managed by the Deputy Director.

About Deptford X

Deptford X is a visual arts charity based in Deptford, South East London. We foster artistic talent and nurture community within the borough of Lewisham and beyond. We achieve this through a free annual festival in Deptford and ongoing activity supporting artists and our local communities throughout the year.

Founded in 1998, Deptford X is London's longest-running visual arts festival. Each year, we stage a free, ten-day festival, working with hundreds of artists to locate art at the centre of everyday life for all of the area's communities.

Deptford X:

- Is led by local artistic ambition, interests and practice.
- Brings art into informal contexts and public spaces for all to access.
- Seeks to make a positive contribution to our locality, communities, and to art, and to lead by example.
- Places equity, accessibility and care at the heart of the organisation.
- Holds space and advocates for difference, creativity, experimentation and learning within art.

As a small team, the emphasis is on a flexible, supportive and inclusive working environment that prioritises collaborative working and problem solving.

The Role

You will bring practical experience of the logistical and hands on delivery of exhibitions and off site art projects and events to the planning and delivery of this year's Deptford X festival planned for September of this year. With your practical skillset and experience of working with artists, you will be key in the realisation of Deptford X's core projects for this year's festival. Your organisational and problem solving skills will ensure that all projects are delivered on budget and in a timely sustainable manner.

As well as a high level of practical skills, you will remain calm under pressure and be a welcome addition to the small team, ensuring that the festival is both well run and pleasant for all involved.

This is an ideal opportunity to contribute to the delivery of this year's festival within a forward thinking organisation which will value your skills and input. It is a role which will offer you both autonomy and support, and expose you to a variety of different challenges.

Key Responsibilities

Work closely with the Deptford X Team, partners and artists to support research, development and delivery of the programme:

1. Be the key point of contact for all artists and guests for the booking of travel and accommodation, transportation of artists.
2. Liaise with artists about the production needs of the work and develop appropriate and time-sensitive plans for production, including accurate risk assessments for each project.
3. Liaise with venues regarding access.
4. Work closely with the Deputy Director and technicians to plan installations and deinstallations across all festival sites.
5. Source materials and services required to execute the installation and deinstallation of the festival.
6. Develop and deliver a plan to make the festival sites exhibition ready and work with volunteers to execute.
7. Work closely with the artists, Deputy Director, technicians and volunteers to manage the installation and deinstallation of art works.
8. Maintain all artwork sites during the festival
9. Work with the other festival assistant (Communications and Volunteers) to install signage across the festival site in advance of the festival, and deinstall post-festival
10. Lead on the delivery of the public programmes - setting up any AV equipment, chairs, refreshments and liaising with artists on delivery.
11. Work closely with the Parade project manager and artists to manage the production and delivery of the Parade on the final day of the festival.
12. Provide the Deptford X team with support and assistance as required on planning and delivery of DX Curated, DX Supported and wider public programmes
13. Documenting the festival projects when on site as a matter of course.
14. Attend internal and external meetings and any site visits as required.
15. Office and administrative activities, including IT, filing, storage and archiving
16. Coordination and input of data collection and audience research activities (incl. visitor surveys, counts, evaluation forms)
17. Liaising with artists, partner venues, freelance contractors and other stakeholders
18. Basic financial administration
19. Festival front-of-house operations and invigilation of core projects when required
20. Timely & effective correspondence and administration for the programme, with artists, participants and delivery partners.
21. Dealing skillfully and positively with the daily challenges and pressures of a festival delivery situation
22. Working as a key member of the Deptford X team (alongside staff, volunteers and trustees)
23. Maintaining clear lines of communication at all times (internal and external)

24. Being an advocate for Deptford X wherever possible and always being able to give accurate updates to third parties.
